In such cases, the applicant may be offered a conditional admission on finishing Bachelor's degree at the required grade and/or obtaining the required English language test results. This documentation must be submitted to the EU-CONEXUS Master Officer. If Diploma of Bachelor degree is issued with the delay, a provisional diploma or letter from University must be submitted.

EU-CONEXUS Master Officer is responsible to communicate and consult potential applicants and assist them in the application procedure.

After the applications are submitted, the EU-CONEXUS Master Officer prepares the applicants lists and their documentation to the Selection Committee.

Article 5. Selection

The selection process, performed by the Selection Committee, consists of three steps to ensure the involvement of every Partner institution in the selection of potential students:

- (1) eligibility evaluation,
- (2) assessment of applications and
- (3) interview.

These steps include the assessment of applications in a gradual flow of choosing the best applicants.

The selection is based on criteria guaranteeing a fair evaluation of the applications and does not give priority to any applicant depending on his/her nationality, race, religion, or gender.

Article 5.1 Eligibility evaluation

The submitted applications shall be thoroughly reviewed:

- 1) first the formal aspects to be checked (required documents, documents in English, etc.),
- 2) and then the eligibility requirements to be reviewed.

The relevance of the Bachelor's degree of the applicant in respect to the access to the second cycle studies and the JMPMB programme will be assessed:

- The degree issuing higher education institution must be an accredited institution in the country where the studies are conducted/registration of HEI and to have a right to issue the degree which is submitted.
- The programme must be accredited for the period when the applicant has studied there.
- The qualification must provide the access to Master's studies.
- The qualification must be recognised by the NARICs (National Academic Recognition Information Centres) of the Partners.
- The qualification (or together with additional formal and non-formal qualifications) shall meet specific requirements to study JMPMB, i.e. the applicant must have sufficient background knowledge to study Master in Biotechnology.

In case of doubt regarding the quality of the issuing institution, external advisors will be consulted, in order to establish the status and quality of the institution concerned.

The recognition of the learning outcomes gained through non-formal and informal learning may be used for (1) admission purposes (under the responsibility of the Selection Committee), (2) recognition and transfer of (part of) credits in the JMPMB (under the responsibility of the course coordinating Partner in collaboration with the Programme Committee).

If applications are found to be incomplete and/or non-eligible, the applicants will be informed about this per email.

Article 5.2 Assessment of applications

Eligible applications are then evaluated and ranked by the Selection Committee according to the following selection criteria and point system:

Selection criteria	Points

Extracurricular merits (entrepreneurship, publications, conference papers, volunteer work, social activity, etc.)	0 (no merits) to 10 (very high)
Total:	0 to 100

The applicants will be informed about the ranking points by the EU-CONEXUS Master Officer.

Total:		5 to 50

N.B. The applicants ranking points are given under a joint agreement. In case of disagreement, each Selection Committee member gives personal points, and the final points are calculated as the average.

The Selection Committee (SC) decides whether the applicant is nominated for the programme. There should be a shared understanding and agreement on the profile of students accepted into the programme. In case, that one member of the Selection Committee is not willing to admit an applicant; the (non)acceptance will be decided by a simple majority of SC members.

Article 6. Final nomination list

The final ranking will consist of the total points collected from the selection criteria evaluation (60 to 100) and interview evaluation (5-50). In case of high competition, the priority will be given to the applicants based on their indicated priorities for tracks in the 3rd semester to ensure the homogenous distribution of students among the tracks.

The Selection Committee approves the pre-nomination list and submits to the Programme Board for the final approval.

The list of nominated students and pending applicants is announced on the EU-CONEXUS website and all applicants are informed by the EU-CONEXUS Master Officer by the email within the admission timeline.

If the nominated student is still due to present his/her final documents, the conditional offer is issued until the pending documents are received.

If a nominated student withdraws his/her application or refuses the offer to study JMPMB, the next person from the pending students list moves up to take the study place.
